

Her heart remembered

"These are my parents' hands. My Dad has cancer and my Mom had Alzheimer's. I'd taken him to the hospital for a procedure and while we were waiting for him to go in, my Mum, who couldn't remember where we were gave me a priceless memory. She managed to scoot her wheelchair over to my Dad and reached for his hand. I quickly and quietly captured the moment. She may not have known why we were there or where we were but her heart remembered and their hands show the strength of their love." <3 (Credit: Facebook/Lynne Walter Budnik) #9Today

TODAY page on FACEBOOK
Printed 30th August 2016.