

Centre for Cultural Diversity and Ageing Website

Tool for inclusive services in aged care

The Centre for Cultural Diversity in Ageing has launched a new website with a range of resources for aged care service providers, consumers and carers. It offers free, downloadable resources such as the new Inclusive Service Standards: A resource for aged care providers. The standards provide a new framework that will support aged care providers in becoming inclusive for all consumers. The Culturally Inclusive Practice Guides have been revisited and updated, and are intended to be used by managers and staff and inform direct service provision. The guides set out key considerations, actions and resources that can support aged care providers to deliver inclusive services to people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds. Go to culturaldiversity.com.au.

See Australian Ageing Agenda 2018.03-04 p.56

<http://www.culturaldiversity.com.au/>